About JWEET

The Journal of World's Electrical Engineering and Technology (JWEET) is a peer-reviewed journal, offering rapid publication of high quality research from an international authorship. All published articles are made freely available online on a page charge basis and benefit from an in depth technical editing service to ensure all papers are fully accessible and readable to an international readership.

JWEET

is indexed in RICeST-ISC, Ulrich's™, Index Copernicus, SHERPA/Romeo, EZB, Google Scholar, ...

full index information

The journal does encourage papers with emphasis on

1. Design of Integrated Circuits and Microsystems, Digital Circuits and Computer Arithmetic, Analog electronics and Data Converters, Neural Networks and Fuzzy Systems
2. Antenna and propagations, Electromagnetic compatibility, magnetic fields, theory and modeling of magnetic materials, mathematical modelling, wireless and plasma engineering

3. Signal processing, Pattern recognition, Image processing, wireless Networks,
4. Instrumentations and measurements, power devices, energy conversion, power generation, transmission and distribution, power system planning and control, network harmonics, power quality, fault location and analysis, renewable energy sources, energy management systems, electrical machines
5. Robotics, Machine intelligence, Sensors and actuators, Electric and hybrid vehicles
6. Bioelectronics and Biomedical Systems that papers in these fields and relative topics are acceptable for JWEET.
